Open Letter

Dear Urs,

International Power Invest AG, founded in 2013 in Dudinggen, Switzerland, is a holding company that unites various companies worldwide under its umbrella.

The focus of all corporate entities is on sustainability in all areas of life and the creation and application of economic and ecological technologies that reduce the consumption of resources and conserve them. Our subsidiaries focus on renewable energies, electricity storage, charging infrastructure for electric vehicles, storage and logistics, FinTech, AI and IT, as well as recycling technologies for the recovery of nutrients.

Our companies own various properties in Germany, Italy and Malta, PV plants in Germany, Italy and Iran, charging infrastructure for electric vehicles, electricity storage for peak power smoothing, laboratories and recycling plants for industrial processing of all types of biomass, and various patents on these technologies. In addition, there are shareholdings in a renowned, internationally active asset management company and in a music and book publishing company with around one million titles.

Over the years, the Group's subsidiaries have successfully completed a whole range of projects in their fields and are extremely active. At the operational headquarters of most of the Group's German subsidiaries in northeastern Germany, we research and develop innovative technologies and demonstrate their use in practice.

Here we regularly receive international guests from business and politics and show them the opportunities in these areas. We are proud of the technical solutions we have created and the large number of projects that have been realized worldwide.

Since 2017, we have been investing in blockchain technologies and have been able to gain experience in this area. The essential criteria to maintain value in the long term and successively contribute to the increase in value are largely missing in all products offered in this market. Unlike everyone else, you Urs, have indeed convinced us with real values with the DECENOMY strategy you have developed.

Using real values to secure a virtual economic space of our own, while allowing those active in that space to directly participate in value creation and enhancement with the available coins, convinced us to bring our existing values into this DECENOMY economic space.

We are currently in the process of having the values we intend to contribute evaluated, and it will take a few more weeks to complete. I can already assure you that we firmly intend to contribute these assets, which will be in the triple-digit millions.

You are welcome to share this letter with your investors and partners, but please ask them to not flood us with inquiries, especially inappropriate messages that we do not understand and to which we will not respond.

The video published yesterday on YouTube about one of our companies showed that sleight of hand is being used to try to convince individuals that everything you and your team are doing is being undermined, instead of them focusing on getting the Coins and associated Masternodes back to value. They obviously are not able to understand, that only then will the existing coins and Masternodes be of value again.

As an entrepreneur in the real world, who does not bother with virtual assets, but has been creating real values for more than 25 years and employs more than 50 real existing employees only at our location in the Northeast of Germany, who contribute with their real existing income every month to provide for their real existing families, it is insulting for me to see with how little awareness of reality these persons approach such a topic.

Just entering the company address on google earth would have shown that it is indeed possible to accommodate a large number of our companies in our 2400 sqm office building, which is located on our property that is more than 1km long and more than 1km wide, with industrial production and warehousing facilities of 140,000 sqm in size.

I would like to invite all the doubters to visit us here, so that they can come out of their virtual world into reality.

As already explained in detail today in our telephone conversation, a German oak with 25 years of experience in the management of various companies, it is quite indifferent if a sow scratches at it.

If this baseless defamation of my person and my company continues, I will have to withdraw my support for this community, as this defamation will have a negative impact on my own family and on all the employees we employ and their families in terms of reputation and business.

However, as long as everyone pulls together and makes sure that everyone can do what is in the spirit of the project and not counterproductive, then my staff and I look forward to a more intensive cooperation in the coming months and will continue to support you and your team in the implementation of your project.

With kind regards

Uwe Kuhnle
