

Further Planning for YieldNodes Pro 2024/2025

Bridging Economies: YieldNodes Pro's Role in the Digital Finance Vision of DECENOMY

In the dynamic landscape of digital finance, an innovative movement stands out, shaped by the principles and platform provided by DECENOMY. This movement aims to center the real economy and its needs by bridging the gap between the tangible economy and the world of cryptocurrencies. YieldNodes and its evolutionary advancement, YieldNodes Pro, leverage these principles and the forthcoming platform of DECENOMY to expand and redefine the possibilities of digital asset management. This initiative not only addresses previous challenges but also emphasizes the importance of the coins' value, which is based on genuine economic values. By focusing on representing the real economy and its needs, away from the negative excesses of traditional financial speculation, a commitment to a sustainable and value-oriented digital financial world is manifested.

Strategic Innovation: YieldNodes Pro's Evolution with DECENOMY

YieldNodes Pro, working closely with the DECENOMY platform, benefits from an advanced and innovative strategy that goes far beyond the concept of Real-World Assets (RWA). While RWA follows a similar approach by integrating physical, tangible assets into the blockchain to incorporate traditional assets into the digital economy, DECENOMY has already taken a significantly more developed path conceptually.

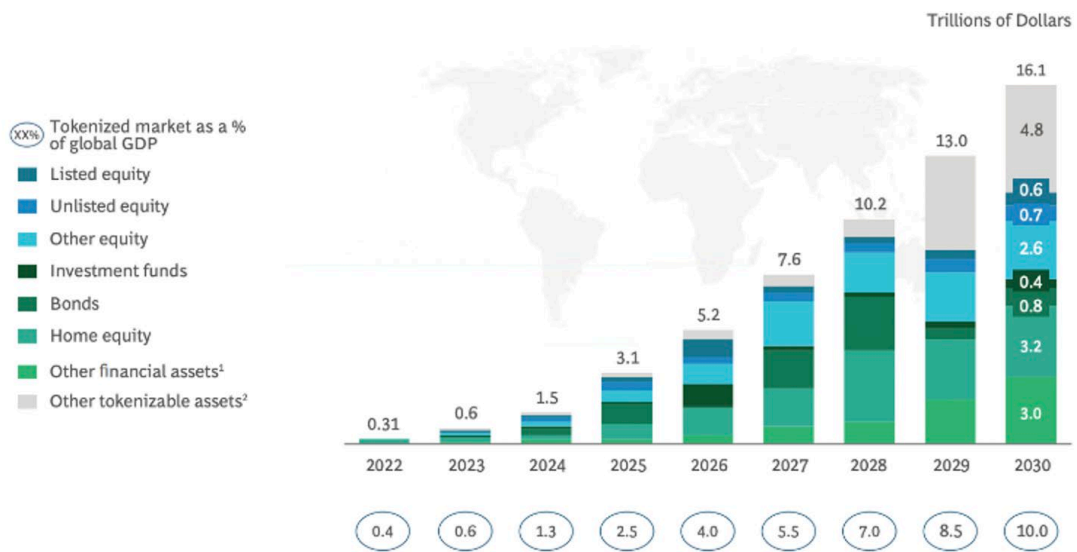

This includes underpinning cryptocurrencies with real economic values, value creation, and efficiency enhancement, offering YieldNodes Pro partners the opportunity to participate in the growth of the economic sector emerging around DECENOMY. The previous masternode pool system experiences a significant increase in transparency, complemented by the opportunity to directly participate in real-economic projects. These innovations not only open up extended investment opportunities but also create a direct link between investors and the real economy, giving digital assets deeper meaning and value.

Sustainable Digital Economy: DECENOMY's Holistic Approach to Real World Assets

DECENOMY extends the traditional Real World Asset (RWA) approach by seeking a deeper connection between digital currencies and the real economy. In addition to securing coins with real economic values, DECENOMY places great emphasis on adhering to social and environmental standards. This comprehensive perspective creates a platform that prioritizes financial, social, and environmental sustainability, going far beyond conventional approaches.

Trailblazing Test Phase: YieldNodes Pro Embraces Innovation and Community Feedback

In July, YieldNodes Pro will unveil its first test version, based on these comprehensive principles, marking a significant development. This phase will be carefully monitored to ensure it meets the community's high expectations and provides a seamless transition to the enhanced possibilities that DECENOMY and YieldNodes jointly pursue.

NFT Evolution: YieldNodes Pro Expands Investment Horizons and Connects to the Real Economy

Parallel to the development of YieldNodes Pro, the platform continues its commitment to Non-Fungible Tokens (NFTs), an area where YieldNodes partners have already made significant progress by the end of 2023. More than 50% of the partners have taken the opportunity to convert their claims into NFTs, representing an innovative step towards flexibility and profit-sharing. This conversion underscores the pioneering role of DECENOMY and YieldNodes in technological innovation and further solidifies the legal, technical, and financial foundations of the platform. By continuing this initiative with YieldNodes Pro, not only are investment opportunities expanded, but a direct connection between investors and the real economy is also established, giving digital assets even deeper meaning and value.

Enhanced Asset Management: Anticipating YieldNodes Pro's Full Launch and Its Impact on Investments

From the summer of 2024, YieldNodes partners will receive enhanced opportunities to manage their deposits, initially benefiting those who own NFTs. These expanded possibilities are a harbinger of what to expect with the full activation of YieldNodes Pro by the end of 2024, early 2025. The complete implementation of YieldNodes Pro will revolutionize how deposits are managed and returns are generated, setting a new standard for the integration of digital and real assets.

Fostering the Future: The Launch of YieldNodes Pro and the Evolution of NFT Trading with DECENOMY

The launch of YieldNodes Pro and the strategic promotion of NFT trading, strengthened by the advanced and sustainable platform of DECENOMY, marks a decisive step in the mission to shape the future of digital asset management. These initiatives reaffirm the commitment to innovation, security, and creating value for the community, as well as for society and the environment at large. An invitation is open to be part of this exciting journey as we build a sustainable ecosystem for the digital financial world of tomorrow.
